Jim Crozier

slow blues in E – with classic walk down from the 5 intro

Well I called up Tech Support, I was having a hard time

Called up Technical Support, just to give them a hard time

Well they didn't tell me nothin', but I spent an hour on the line.

Well I asked them just one question, and they asked me twenty more

Yea, I only had one question, but they asked me twenty more

It just kinda makes me wonder, what the heck I'm payin' for.

Well, when you call up tech support, you better have a good long time

Yea, when you call up tech support, you better hit the head, and get ya some coffee, cause it's going to take a real long time

And you know that when your finished, it will have happened on your dime.
